Rusk Expected To Seek Action Against Cuba

Latin America Foreign Ministers To Hear Call For Tough Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to urge Latin American foreign ministers today to back tough new economic and political measures aimed at isolating and weakening Cuba.

Rusk obviously would also like a general endorsement of U.S. warnings to Fidel Castro's Soviet-backed regime that it faces U.S. military action if it threatens or uses force against any U.S. or inter-American interests.

Washington officials were not sure how far other American governments would want to go on this issue.

The 20-nation inter-American foreign ministers conference with Rusk as chairman will continue for two days behind closed doors.

President Kennedy arranged a luncheon for the delegation chiefs and is expected to set forth his own views on the Cuban situation.

At his news conference two weeks ago, Kennedy warned that the United States would act alone if necessary in event of a serious Cuban Communist military threat to the United States or any American nation.

Kennedy then made clear that under present circumstances the situation in Cuba does not require military action.

In the U.S. view, however, it does require other steps designed both to contain Communist power in Cuba and to put new pressures on Castro with the ultimate purpose of bringing about his downfall.

Rusk and Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin have held talks with Latin American officials during the past week which have encouraged them to believe a solid front of opposition to Castro and the buildup of Soviet arms in Cuba is developing.

The United States would like to see virtually all remaining trade with the exception of some food and medical supplies—between Latin American countries and Cuba cut off.

Newark Judge To Withdraw Resignation

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Charles B. Holtsberry, who resigned as Licking County Common Pleas Court judge and as an attorney in Ohio, said today the resignations were obtained under duress and that he has asked that both be withdrawn.

Holtsberry said that the persons responsible, if they seek his ouster, "will have to file charges."

He said he sent telegrams to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt of the Ohio Supreme Court, asking withdrawal of the resignations.

Holtsberry's resignation as an attorney was received by the Supreme Court Monday, giving an undefined illness as the reason. His resignation as judge was sent to the governor over the weekend. John McMillan, clerk of the Supreme Court, said circumstances indicated Holtsberry had been under investigation.

The Licking County Bar Association met in closed session Monday afternoon to discuss the case. They unanimously supported County Prosecutor Forest B. Ashcraft, a Democrat, for appointment as common pleas judge.

The judge indicated in a lengthy statement that the issue between him and a bar association investigating committee was a divorce involving a secretary in his office. His statement specifically stated there was no perjury involved in the case.

He charged committee members forced him, while ill, to sign prepared letters of resignation through "inhuman and unfair treatment."

Point Of Order

FORMER Army Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker is ushered out of Court-house Square at bayonet point and later arrested on charges of "rebellion, insurrection and seditious conspiracy" for the role he played in the University of Mississippi riots. If found guilty Walker could be sentenced to a total of 39 years in jail and fined $40,000. Walker was taken to the federal hospital at Springfield, Mo.

Walker Is Placed In Federal Prison

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Former Maj. Edwin A. Walker's crusade in behalf of Mississippi segregationists has ended with the war hero's arrest on charges of leading an insurrection against the United States.

The federal action Monday afternoon ended two stormy days in Oxford for the one-time soldier, center of one controversy after another before and after his 1961 resignation from the Army.

Walker, commander of federal troops in the Little Rock, Ark., desegregation crisis, this time was on the other side.

The highest-ranking Justice Department officer in Oxford, Deputy Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, ordered Walker's arrest, after the 53-year-old Texan led one student charge against federal marshals on the University of Mississippi campus, and later appeared in the midst of rioting in downtown Oxford.

Shortly after he waived a preliminary hearing, and failed to make $100,000 bond set for the four charges against him, Walker was flown to a federal prison in Springfield, Mo., which specializes in psychiatric care.

After talking to Walker nearly an hour Monday night, Dr. Russell Settle, the center's warden, said the former general was certain his friends would raise his bond shortly.

One of his supporters, identified as Ashland Burchwell, a 22-year-old Texan, was picked up in Dallas, along with a large supply of arms and ammunition police said he was taking to Walker in Mississippi. Burchwell said he had worked for Walker both in the Army and in Texas.

But the "tens of thousands" Walker promised to lead to the support of Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett, fighting to prevent Negro James H. Meredith's enrollment at the University of Mississippi, never materialized.

The four charges filed against Walker were:

1. Assaulting, resisting, or impeding U.S. marshals.
2. Conspiring to prevent discharge of duties.
3. Inciting, assisting and engaging in insurrection against the authority of the United States.
4. Conspiring to oppose by force the execution of any law of the United States.

It was just five years ago that Walker, then a tough spit and polish soldier, told pupils of Little Rock that the Supreme Court's integration decision "is binding on all citizens."

"If it were otherwise," he said, (Please Turn to Page 10)

2 Ohio Men Re-Indicted In Red Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Ohioans are among eight men re-indicted by a federal grand jury on contempt of Congress charges. Earlier convictions on the charges growing out of investigations of Communists were reserved by the Supreme Court on a legal technicality.

The Ohioans are John T. Gojack, trade unionist of Columbus, and Norton Anthony Russell, an engineer at Yellow Springs.

Both were involved in contempt citations by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The eight were re-indicted Monday.

Russell's conviction stemmed from his refusal to answer questions about Communist Party activities in the Dayton and Yellow Springs area. The hearings were in Dayton and Washington in 1954. He was sentenced to 30 days and fined $500.

Gojack, a former general vice president of the United Electrical Workers Union, was sentenced to nine months in jail and fined $200.

An appeals court upheld the convictions, but the Supreme Court in a 5-2 decision last May reversed the convictions, contending "the grand jury failed to identify the subject under Congressional inquiry at the time the witness was interrogated."

3 Revolutionaries Said Killed In Cuba

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio said Monday night three counter-revolutionaries have been killed and seven others captured in Las Villas Province.

The broadcast, monitored in Key West, did not say when the action occurred.

The broadcast claimed seven other members of the same band were captured.

House Set To Take Action On Kennedy Tax Revision Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Final House action comes today on President Kennedy's tax revision bill which includes a tax incentive provision designed to spur business investment.

The measure is far different from the one Kennedy asked for in April 1961, but the administration still hails the bill as a significant advance in tax legislation.

Its central provision calls for a 7 per cent tax credit for investment in new machinery and equipment. Firms willing to spend money to modernize their plants are expected to get a billion-dollar tax cut in 1963 through the provision.

To offset such a revenue loss, Kennedy had asked for a number of changes designed to plug loopholes in existing law and bring in enough revenue to provide a net increase in the bill of $600 million a year.

But first the House, and then the Senate, whittled away at the suggested changes until the bill would now produce a net loss of about $545 million a year.

The biggest defeat Kennedy suffered on the bill came when the Senate knocked out a provision requiring 20 per cent withholding on dividend and interest payments, similar to tax withholding on salaries. The House had included the provision in its bill but the Senate prevailed in the final compromise version.

Treasury Department officials have estimated that between $4 billion and $5 billion in dividend and interest payments each year are now unreported, depriving the government of about a billion dollars in taxes.

In place of the withholding provision the bill includes a requirement that payments of more than $10 a year in either interest or dividends must be reported by the paying firm to the Internal Revenue Service, and also to the individual receiving the payments.

Senate sponsors of this provision predict it will bring in $275 million a year in new tax revenue.

The Senate has not acted on the compromise measure.

Mississippi Chief Claims He Complied With Order

Tribunal Told Negro Enrolled OK In Ole Miss

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Through his attorney, Gov. Ross Barnett told the federal appeals court today that he had complied with court orders for the enrollment of Negro James H. Meredith at the University of Mississippi.

Mississippi Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson represented the governor in a hearing before the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals shortly after Barnett's 11 a.m. (CST) deadline for purging himself of contempt had passed.

Patterson pointed out that Meredith is now enrolled in the university at Oxford, and is attending classes.

He told the court that neither the governor — an adamant foe of desegregation — nor Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. had committed any act constituting a violation of court orders.

Meanwhile, in Oxford, federal troops arrested more than two dozen persons carrying weapons during the night as they tightened an uneasy security around the University of Mississippi.

The armed troops, wary of the slightest buildup in the bitter segregation dispute, arrested anyone found with any type of weapon.

Meredith, the 29-year-old Negro who is the hub of the state vs. federal government hassle, spent his first night as an Ole Miss student in a residence hall flooded with spotlights.

One man and his son, 14, arrested during the early hours, had a collection that included a rifle, and two shotguns, one saber, two hunting knives and ammunition.

"I call on the President to put a stop to further violence by immediate removal of Meredith and the withdrawal of federal troops and marshals from Mississippi soil," the 64-year-old governor said in a speech telecast across the nation Monday night.

Barnett blamed federal intervention for the weekend segregation riots and the deaths of a French newsmen and an Oxford repairman.

Washington authorities countered that Barnett's failure to provide adequate police protection caused the strife.

There was a mounting buildup of nearly 12,000 soldiers including the crack 101st Airborne, the paratroop outfit that quelled the 1957 school integration violence at Little Rock, Ark.

Barnett, convicted last Friday of civil contempt, faced imprisonment and a $10,000 daily fine, unless he purged himself by the deadline.

Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson, convicted of similar contempt the following day, faced a $5,000 daily fine if he did not act to purge himself by the same deadline.

Eight of the appeals court's nine members, sitting en banc, convicted Barnett. The governor did not appear. Attorneys for the state were refused permission to participate in the case.

The eight judges were unanimous in finding Barnett guilty, although three dissented from the part of the sentence that levied the fine.

The court defined compliance as (1) ceasing all resistance to desegregation orders by the federal courts and (2) maintaining law and order and cooperating with officers and agents of the courts.

The appellate court cited two instances where Barnett personally turned back Meredith. It said his conduct was designed for the "deliberate and announced purpose of preventing compliance with the orders of this and other federal courts."

Meanwhile, an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says the application of a Negro girl for admission to the University of Mississippi apparently is being processed.

Jack Greenberg, chief counsel for the NAACP, would not identify the girl when he made the announcement Monday.

Troops streamed into Oxford, outnumbering the college hamlet's citizenry 2-1 in the strongest display of federal might since the end of the Civil War nearly a century ago.

The troops arrested more than 200 persons since Sunday night, (Please Turn to Page 2)

Astronaut Launch Chances Are Good

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Improving weather conditions in Atlantic recovery areas today brightened hopes that astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. will be launched Wednesday on his intended six-orbit around the world mission.

The launching is scheduled for 7 a.m. Eastern Standard Time, but may be delayed for weather or technical reasons. It must take place by 9 a.m., however, or be called off for 24 hours. This two-hour launching period would provide at least three hours of daylight search time in the probable recovery areas.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported today that a change in course removed tropical storm Daisy as a threat to the third orbit landing area 200 miles north of Puerto Rico. The agency said there was a possibility the storm could bring cloudy weather to the second orbit drop zone 375 miles south of Bermuda. But it reported the storm would have to move faster than its present 12 miles an hour if it is to bother this area.

Before shifting her 40-mile winds to a more northerly course overnight, Daisy was on a path which would have crossed the third orbit recovery area in the morning.

Conditions appear generally good for a launching, a NASA spokesman reported.

He said the first part of the split countdown on the Atlas spacecraft combination went without a hitch this morning. This included fueling of the Atlas with tons of fuel.

Afterwards Schirra and his backup pilot, Leroy Gordon Cooper, attended an engineering briefing on the mission. On schedule later were additional studies of the flight plan which calls for Schirra to circle the earth six times in 9 hours 11 minutes, the longest manned space flight planned by the United States.

Schirra flew a simulated mission Monday in a procedures trainer.

He and Cooper underwent exhaustive physical examinations. Dr. Howard Minners, flight surgeon, said both astronauts were in excellent condition and ready to fly.

Schirra, 39, a Navy commander, will begin his final preparations today, as technicians load fuel into the Atlas rocket that will send him and his Sigma 7 spacecraft on their flight, possibly the last before an American astronaut spends a full day in space.

Space officials, who had previously hazarded a guess of a 50-50 chance to get Schirra off on Wednesday, had no estimate of odds in their last weather briefing Monday.

The critical area Daisy menaces is the locale where Schirra would land after one, two or three orbits. The weather in the landing areas of the Pacific for the fourth, fifth and sixth orbits is not a problem at the moment.

Mother Tries To Kill 3 Of Her Children

NEW YORK (AP)—A distraught mother who says she lacked money to care for her eight children tried to drown her three youngest ones and herself Monday. She jumped off a ferryboat with two children in her arms after heaving the third child over the railing.

One 3-year-old boy was still missing today and presumed drowned in New York harbor. Four off-duty city firemen and a deckhand leaped off the Staten Island ferry and rescued the mother and the other two youngsters.

The mother, Ruth Coonan, 41, of Farmingdale, N.Y., was taken to Bellevue Hospital for psychiatric observation.

Missing was her son, Allen. Rescued with her were Helen, 6, and Robert, 2. They were taken to a children's shelter.

Mrs. Coonan sent a fourth child, Joseph, 10, around to the front of the ferryboat, after he ignored her order to "jump in the water," police said.

Her husband, John, 44, is a part-time traffic consultant for two firms in Farmingdale.

While he went to the hospital to see his wife, their eldest child, Nora, 15, was home watching the other Coonan youngsters, John, 14, Bruce, 12, and Anne Marie, 8.

Rhodes Urges Bond Fund Use To Aid State Universities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Republican nominee for governor, announced today a program to expand higher education in Ohio.

Termining the plan a "blueprint for brainpower", Rhodes asserted it could be financed without new taxes.

He proposed tapping, with voter approval, an accumulating surplus in the $150 million capital improvements bond fund for construction at state universities.

A similar proposal in the last legislature folded after the administration acted to invest surplus funds.

Rhodes said his program, like three others advanced in the current election campaign, has the backing of Republican legislative leaders. In its first phase, he said, it would include:

Support for state universities consistent with increasing enrollments.

Expansion of 1961 enactments providing 80 per cent guarantee of student loans and creation of community college and university branch districts.

Appropriations to carry out the community college law providing for partial support to municipal universities, such as those in Akron, Toledo and Cincinnati.

Appropriations in support of the university branch campus law to enable students to obtain up to two years of college credit while living at home.

Creation of a State Board of Regents for Higher Education responsible for correlating activities at state universities, determining capital improvement priorities, planning university expansion, avoiding duplication, assuring best use of state funds, assuring full use of facilities, and developing graduate research centers.

Rhodes said creation of such a board would not affect the activities of present university trustees.

The auditor also called for "a policy of determination not to raid the state treasury for general operating monies for the construction of buildings."

Rhodes termed his program "urgent." Present enrollment in Ohio's institutions of higher learning was estimated to be 200,000 students, 140,000 of them attending full-time. The 1970 enrollment estimate exceeds 700,000.

Current enrollment in state universities and branches alone was put at about 70,000, including part-time students. About 130,000 are expected by 1970, he estimated.

Coffee Break..

OVERCAST SKIES and intermittent rain continued Tuesday morning with the condition expected to prevail for the next day or so.

Coyt A. Stookey, local weather observer, reported a total of .18-inch of rain fell during the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m.

Temperatures remained in the normal autumn range. The high Monday was 73. The low early Tuesday, 53.

JEFFERSONVILLE also has its dog problems.

And Mayor Donald Morrow said Tuesday the village is going to do something about it.

Police Chief Bob Carr and County Dog Warden Chink Davis will pick up all dogs without licenses and collars and impound them in the county dog pound, the mayor said.

Owners will have to buy a license, pay an impoundment fee and a daily boarding charge before they can get them back.

"We have dogs running all over the place, even going into the school building and we're going to do something about it," Mayor Morrow said. "However, we felt that we should give fair warning first."

Foreign Aid Bill Nears Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders pressed for passage of the big foreign aid money bill today after winning every test vote in the first day of debate.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., serving as floor manager for the $4,422,800,000 measure, told newsmen he expected the bill to clear the Senate and be sent to conference with the House by mid-afternoon.

Humphrey expressed confidence that the embattled measure had cleared its major hurdles.

The Democratic majority had the support of a number of Republicans during the 12-hour session Monday in which the Senate voted on eight amendments. As many as a dozen GOP senators supported President Kennedy on the key tests, providing the margin of victory.

It adopted 39-36 a provision giving the President authority to permit aid to countries which sell arms to Cuba or permit their ships to be used to transport military supplies to the island. The House version flatly bans any assistance to such countries.

In the closest vote, the Senate agreed 39-37 to eliminate a House amendment denying any aid to Poland and Yugoslavia.

Cleveland Dems Voting On Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP)—A turnout of 85,000 to 100,000 voters was expected for today's special primary election to pick a Democratic nominee for mayor of Cleveland.

The three candidates are Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, backed by the Cuyahoga County Democratic organization; County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan and Acting Mayor Ralph S. Locher.

Locher became mayor when Anthony J. Celebrezze, serving his fifth term, resigned to join President Kennedy's cabinet as welfare secretary.

The Republicans will have no primary because Willard W. Brown, Cleveland industrialist, was the only GOP candidate to file for mayor. He will oppose today's winner in the November election.

GOP Executive Panel Names New Secretary

Tom Mark was elected secretary-treasurer of the Fayette County Republican Executive Committee Monday night, succeeding George O. Smith.

There was no public announcement of the change.

Mark acknowledged that he had been elected, but referred all questions to John S. Bath, committee chairman.

Bath declined comment. Smith also said he had nothing to say on the matter.

Smith, a Jefferson Twp. farmer, was elected secretary-treasurer when the Executive Committee organized earlier this year. He has been active in Republican politics for several years and is Jefferson Twp. representative on the Central and Executive committees.

BATH ANNOUNCED the following matters were handled at the meeting held in Republican headquarters, 146 N. Fayette St.

Plans were completed for the Republican dinner at 6:30 p. m. next Monday in Legion Hall at which Robert Taft Jr., Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, will be the principal speaker.

Tickets for the dinner are available from Republican committee men and at Republican headquarters. If any tickets are left they may be purchased at the door.

Bath designated William E. Williams as Fayette County chairman of the William H. Harsha Jr. for congressman campaign.

He also appointed Kenneth Bush and Richard R. Willis as executive committee coordinators to work with the new Fayette County Young Republicans Club. The club will hold an organization meeting Tuesday night at Republican headquarters.

TB Skin Tests Given To 1,861 Here This Year

During the first nine months of this year, skin tests for tuberculosis detection were given to 1,861 school children, school personnel, food handlers and members of families of those who reacted positively to previous tests, directors of the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association were told at their meeting in the office of the county commissioners in the Courthouse Monday night.

The reports on this phase of the association's program were given by Miss Gretchen Darlington, senior Health Department nurse, and Mrs. Marie Patrick, the department's tuberculosis nurse.

The skin testing program, carried on cooperatively by the association and Health Department will continue in the schools through November, the directors announced. Tests will be given to pupils in the first and seventh grades of the elementary schools and the sophomore and junior classes of the high schools with consent of their parents.

Max Lawrence, who represents Fayette County on the board of trustees of the Mt. Logan Sanatorium at Chillicothe, reported 44 patients from six counties are now receiving treatment at the hospital.

During the business session conducted by Leonard Miller, president, the directors reviewed plans for the annual Christmas Seal sale, which will start next month. Directors expressed the hope that proceeds of the sale will exceed those of last year in order to continue and expand the county-wide tuberculosis control program.

Driver Arrested After CCC Crash

Both cars were demolished in a two-car collision at 10:45 p.m. Monday on the CCC Highway about 5 1/2 miles west of Washington C. H. No injuries were reported.

Sheriff's Deputy Tony Perone said a westbound car driven by William P. Rado, 41, Columbus, crossed the centerline and sideswiped an eastbound car driven by Ernest Thompson, 45, of 519 Fifth St. The car then spun off the road and into a fence and mail box.

Rado was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated and driving left of center.

He was being held in the county jail in lieu of $375 bond for a hearing at 10 a. m. Wednesday in Municipal Court.

City School Board Plans Meetings To Discuss Expansion Requirements

The Washington C. H. Board of Education is planning an extended series of informal monthly discussion sessions in an effort to provide classroom space and facilities for a growing school enrollment which already has overtaxed the capacity of three buildings.

Matters were brought to a head at a regular meeting Monday night when Superintendent Marshall D. Boggs told the board that

WHS Open House Planned Oct. 14

Sunday, Oct. 14, will be Visitation Day at Washington High School.

The new cafeteria, the redecorated auditorium and the new biology laboratory will be open for inspection from 1 until 3 p.m. on that day.

Board members and school officials will greet visitors during those hours, and light refreshments are planned.

The $92,000 cafeteria opened Monday.

he expects an additional 300 students in the high school within the next five years.

And he added that the high school building, with a rated capacity of 1,200 students already has an enrollment of 1,253—described as "beyond capacity for a strong academic program."

BELLE AIRE elementary school, built in 1958 and enlarged in 1961, already is operating slightly beyond rated capacity, he said, and the six-classroom Sunnyside School, built in 1936, has spilled over into a general purpose room designed for use as an auditorium or meeting room.

Eastside elementary school, built in 1958 and enlarged in 1961, has a classroom capacity of 570 and an enrollment of 538, with only one room currently not used for classroom purposes.

One room at Rose Avenue and one at Cherry Hill are not now in use.

IN A CHART showing room use at the six school buildings, Boggs pointed out that two classrooms instead of one could be created at Cherry Hill by returning art and music to classrooms.

There is a possibility of creating two additional classrooms at Eastside by returning art and music to classrooms, and the general purpose room also could be used for classes if necessary.

An additional classroom could be created at Rose Avenue School by returning art and music to regular classes.

BOGGS POINTED OUT to the board that the situation in the high school probably will become critical in two more years.

At the same time, he said, the academic program should be strengthened with additional about one-third of them students. Most of them went free, but more than a dozen stayed in custody to face various charges, including former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The military's mission was to protect the slightly built, 29-year-old Meredith's court-ordered status as a student at the university, and to forestall further rioting on campus in Oxford.

Amid all this massing of force and this legal turmoil, Meredith played his pioneer role with every appearance of outward calm. Federal marshals escorted him into the lyceum, the administration building, Monday morning. A Confederate flag hung at half staff.

Meredith paid $230 for tuition. He was assigned a two-room apartment with kitchenette in a residence building, Baxter Hall. Then, closely guarded, he set off for classes in such subjects as history, political science and English.

Although his determined drive to enroll at Mississippi was crowned with at least temporary success, Meredith was quoted as saying: "This is not a happy occasion."

courses, and the vocational education and commercial programs should be revamped to provide greater opportunities for Washington C. H. students.

Board members agreed that long and careful consideration should be given to the need for more classrooms and that a series of informal discussion sessions will be required to come up with answers satisfactory to the taxpayers. Board members are thinking in terms of a planning program over a period of possibly two years.

PRELIMINARY plans were made at the meeting to enlist the support of Washington C. H. organizations for the two-mile levy renewal which will be placed before voters in November.

Letters to local groups will point out that without the levy, which will not mean an increase in taxes, it will be impossible for the city schools to maintain their present standards.

In other action, the board authorized the use of the main foyer and corridor at Belle Aire school for voting purposes at the November election.

Approved an expansion of the teacher recruitment program conducted by the superintendent during the past year.

Received a report of the audit of elementary school special accounts.

Heard a report that the new high school cafeteria functioned smoothly during its first day of operation.

Authorized payment of $98,936.22 in current bills and $5,032.14 in bills for roof repairs at the high school.

Local Jaycees At Seminar To Report Oct. 10

One or more of the nine members of the Washington C. H. Junior Chamber of Commerce who attended the weekend Governmental Affairs Seminar in Columbus will relay to the other members some of the highlights of the discussions at their regular meeting Oct. 10, David K. Accident Victim Remains 'Critical'

Gary Clay, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Clay, Rt. 1, remained in critical condition Tuesday noon at University Hospital, Columbus. A hospital spokesman said he still had not regained consciousness.

The youth suffered a skull fracture Sunday afternoon when his car upset while he was driving it on the Washington Speedway, Jamison Rd., following the day's stock car races. He was thrown out of the car and pinned under the wreckage.

Two others in the car suffered minor injuries.

HOW THE WEATHER LOOKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A nearly stationary low centered in Missouri since early Monday pumped abundant moisture into the Ohio region and produced mostly overcast skies over the entire state and rain in the southwestern quarter Monday night.

The low is expected to move very little through Wednesday. This will result in rain spreading into the remaining portions of Ohio by tonight.

There also is a slight chance of a few thunderstorms with the rain and rainfall could be locally heavy.

Temperatures near dawn today included Cleveland 52, Marietta 56 and Cincinnati and Columbus 57.

Fr. Connelly Plans 10-Day Alaskan Tour

The Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church, will leave Wednesday morning for a 10-day speaking tour in Alaska.

The trip, similar to one he took five years ago, is again sponsored by the Grand Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

The Rev. Father Richard LeVett, of Cincinnati, a missionary priest who recently returned from South America, will assume the pastoral duties at St. Colman's until Father Connelly returns.

The first stops Father Connelly will make on his tour include a speaking engagement at the University of Alaska in Fairbanks, an interview on a television station and a speaking engagement at an Anchorage Air Force base.

Later he will speak to a service group in Kodiak, and to Elks lodges in Cordova, Seward, Palmer and Ketchikan. He is then scheduled to attend the Elks state convention in Juneau.

Father Connelly will conduct Mass this Sunday for the conventioners at the Cathedral of the Nativity in Juneau. Also attending the state convention will be Lee Donaldson of Etna, Penn., grand exalted ruler of the Elks lodge.

In Fairbanks, Father Connelly will be escorted by Mike Stepanovich, former governor of Alaska, and the present Republican nominee for that office.

Father Connelly was four times grand chaplain of the Elks and 10 times state chaplain. He is now chaplain emeritus.

Stock Market Climbs Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market jogged to the upside in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5, with industrials up 3/4, rails and utilities unchanged.

Gains of fractions to a point or more among key stocks outnumbered losers, but most gains were small.

Some blue chips which were hammered down sharply in recent sessions, however, rebounded 1 or more points as they recovered some of their lost ground.

The volatile "growth" stocks also moved more widely than the general run of stocks, as usual, picking up 1 to 3 points.

Many stocks were unchanged or showed small losses.

IBM was up about 9. Xerox 4, Polaroid 3. Litton Industries 2 and Beckman Instruments more than a point.

Du Pont recouped about 3 points, Sears Roebuck more than 2, and American Telephone about 2.

Gen. Walker Of Little Rock Compared To 1962 Walker

EDITORS NOTE—Reiman Morin of The Associated Press won a second Pulitzer Prize for his coverage of the 1957 Little Rock, Ark., desegregation crisis. At that time, Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was in charge of troops enforcing federal court orders. Walker, who has since resigned from the Army, was in the midst of rioting at the University of Mississippi Sunday night—this time trying to defend the state's position against the federal government. Morin compares the Walker of 1957 with the Walker of 1962 and the two different situations.

By REIMAN MORIN
OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Little Rock was a skirmish. Oxford is a war.

The riots just five years ago in the capital of Arkansas were ugly and dangerous. In Oxford, the ugliness and danger is magnified to a gigantic scale.

And one of the ironies of the situation here is that former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who commanded the federal troops that took over Little Rock, is on the opposite side of the fence here.

Walker whipped up the students and others on the campus of the University of Mississippi Sunday night, when it became known that James H. Meredith, Negro, was on the campus.

After the Little Rock riots, Walker said that he found his duty there distasteful.

However, at the time, he was the crisp and professional soldier who gave no sign of his feelings. He set up his command post at the corner of Central High School—the object of the riots.

The contrast is most marked by the size of the operations here. In Little Rock, it was largely quiet if you were three or four blocks from the school. In Oxford, there is little quiet anywhere. On the contrary, there is a brooding sense of disaster.

Several days ago, Walker said he planned to lead "tens of thousands" of volunteers to aid the cause of Gov. Ross Barnett.

But his only troops Sunday night were a band of students and other persons whom he led in a charge on the positions of the federal marshals.

They got within 100 feet but the tear gas fumes repelled them. Later, Walker was giving demonstrators advice on how to counteract the acrid tear gas fumes. Walker appeared on the Oxford town square during the disturbance there Monday.

Walker marched ahead of a file of soldiers as though he were their inspecting officer.

Finally, an Army officer asked him to move. He refused. The officer ordered several soldiers carrying rifles with bayonets alongside Walker.

The soldiers held their bayonets within inches of the former general, but did not touch him. The officer said something to Walker and he walked off through the crowd.

Then later, Walker was arrested at a roadblock and charged with inciting a rebellion.

Mississippi Senator Blames G-Men For Campus Rioting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., told the Senate Monday that "incompetency and unjustified actions" by Justice Department officials and U.S. marshals provoked the riot on the University of Mississippi campus.

Eastland, who heads the Senate Judiciary Committee, said an investigation by his committee and the entire Mississippi congressional delegation had been initiated.

Eastland read to the Senate a resume he said he had received from University of Mississippi officials of events related to the registration of James H. Meredith, 29, a Negro who obtained a court order that the university must enroll him as a student.

The resume said the rioting was touched off by "the unfortunate firing of gas shells" by U.S. marshals stationed on the campus to protect Meredith.

Eastland said the resume was sent to him and Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., by Thomas J. Tubbs, head of the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning, and University Chancellor J. D. Williams.

Eastland said after reading the statement there was no question in his mind but that Meredith should not have been admitted.

"I think the blood is on the hands of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals," he declared. "I think Judge Tuttle aspires to become a justice of the Supreme Court. He has become a government judge."

Judge Elbert Parr Tuttle is chief judge of the court which ordered Meredith's admission to the university and found Gov. Ross Barnett in contempt for seeking to prevent Meredith's enrollment. Stennis called in a separate statement for withdrawal of Meredith from the university "to avoid further bloodshed and loss of life."

The assertion was made in the resume read by Eastland that state highway patrolmen were pushing students back away from the line of marshals formed around the university administration building when "without warning, the marshals fired tear gas projectiles, some of them at least fired point blank at the students and highway patrolmen."

The statement said outsiders congregated on the campus because the marshals had not closed off the entrances.

It said there were reports that as students were arrested they were manhandled by the marshals.

MORE FEDERAL TROOPS STAND BY IN OXFORD—Standing by in case of further serious trouble over Negro James Meredith, a large mass of federal troops lines one of the highways leading to the University of Mississippi in Oxford. Two persons were killed and 75 wounded in eight hours of bloody battling between southerners and federals on the university campus before tear gas restored quiet.

Dad's Education Fit Today?

NEW YORK (AP) — Did you ever see a man who'd studied algebra in high school try later in life to make out his income tax report unaided?

Few sights are more pitiful. Did you ever see a man with two college degrees try to fight his way through a throng of women shoppers in a supermarket in an attempt to reach the canned dog food department?

He's equally pitiful. The question arises as to whether our modern educational system any longer fits men to face the problems of modern living.

One of the main tasks of education in any society is to teach the people how to deal with the realities of their existence.

In a savage or barbaric society this isn't too difficult. As soon as a lad learns how to till the soil, or to hunt and kill game, he is properly regarded as qualified to grab a bride and set up house-keeping. He's a man of the world, and he fits into that world normally and naturally and with a minimum of strain.

As a society becomes more complex, however, the problem of properly educating its young becomes steadily more complex, too.

In earlier days in America it was enough for a man to learn reading, writing, arithmetic—and some kind of trade by which he could earn his bread and butter. It was nice if he also knew which teams played at the battle of Thermopylae, and why Rome rose and fell—but it wasn't strictly necessary.

The theory of education today seems to be to cram more and more culture and information into our youth in order that they will feel more at ease in a civilization that emphasizes leisure.

But to many thoughtful observers it appears that the plight of many grownups is a result of not being taught how to cope with the realities of civilization as it actually is.

If we had the power to modify the school system, we'd teach less ancient history and offer instruction in such matters as follows:

How to fill out a government form. The ability to fill out a government form without a nervous breakdown is the truest mark of an educated man.

How to get along with women. This is the second most essential skill needed for confident living in a changing world.

How to stand in line gracefully. How to use credit cards and still avoid bankruptcy.

A hobby that will enable you to develop your mind while waiting for your wife to get dressed.

How to get a broken gadget in your home fixed without agreeing to adopt the repair man or to finance his family on a trip to Europe.

How to find a parking space. These are the most pressing problems a civilized man faces today, and until we develop an educational system that enables us to solve them all the other learning we stuff into our heads isn't going to help much in creating the better life civilization is supposed to bring.

Whirlpool Seeks To Buy Up Shares

Whirlpool is providing all holders of common stock an equal opportunity to sell shares to the firm before the close of business Oct. 15. Gray said the company has no present plans to reissue the stock which would be held as treasury stock.

James Marlow

Alabama and South Carolina.

If the Kennedy administration wishes to avoid the possibility of more violence—through further desegregation attempts in Mississippi—then progress in this field will be long delayed.

Yet, it's possible a change in public thinking may have resulted from the violence and murders at Ole Miss. Outside the South, many seem to have had the attitude that the South's desegregation problems concerned that area only.

Now there may develop a feeling that the authority of the federal government, as it affects all the people, is at stake not only in Mississippi but anywhere in the South that a government attempt to enroll a Negro in a white school is opposed by violence.

Whether President Kennedy's administration will now encounter in Congress and elsewhere angry Southern opposition remains to be seen. Even without the Ole Miss episode Southern Democrats have hamstrung Kennedy repeatedly. He has always sought to avoid a fight with them.

Now he may at last be forced not only into a fight with them but into asserting more leadership with them than he has been willing to so far.

Dear Abby:

He Should See A Doctor

DEAR ABBY: I've heard of men having sympathetic labor pains, but listen to this: I am 55, am going through "the change," and my husband is having hot flashes. It's no joke. He gets so warm the perspiration drips off his face. He doesn't think a doctor can do anything for him so he won't go to see one. Have you ever heard of anything like this before? Can he be helped or will he just look foolish if he goes to a doctor for an examination?

HOT FLASHES
DEAR HOT: Your husband should see a doctor. Make an appointment and let him sweat out the examination.

DEAR ABBY: The boy who sits behind me in History gave me a note to pass to the girl who sits in front of me. Before I could pass it to her, the teacher grabbed it. She read it to herself and her glasses fell off. I don't know what the note said but it must have been pretty awful. Now I have to stay after school every night this week. Do you think it is fair to punish me for something I had nothing to do with?

MISS IN THE MIDDLE
DEAR IN: You knew that note passing was against the rules. But I would dissociate myself with the contents of that note. That's only being fair to yourself.

DEAR ABBY: Here is a mess if you ever saw one. I am married and have a family. Two years ago I became involved with a married woman 15 years younger than myself. She offered to leave her husband if I'd leave my wife. I said, "Maybe." On the strength of that "maybe" she divorced her husband. I quickly realized that my wife and children meant more to me than my girl friend. Also, the financial beating I'd take wasn't worth it. I now feel morally obligated to marry this girl who broke up her home for me. I love my wife and don't want a divorce. I'm torn between two women and am obligated to both. Any advice for —

A LOUSE
DEAR LOUSE: Your first obligation is to your spouse, louse. As for the girl who gambled and lost, she'll remain on your conscience as the price of your folly.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letters from mothers bragging about the remarkable abilities of their children. Some walked at 7 months, some talked at a year and some did The Twist at 14 months. I am proud of my child, too. She can walk up and down stairs, can write and tell me what she wants. Other children her age can do this, too—but mine happens to be deaf, dumb and blind. God has given her the greatest gift of all. Faith, love and understanding.

Ulcer medicine nearly blinded Jim!

Glaucoma—high pressure eye-balls—had been sneaking up on him like a slowly setting fog. Atropine in that ulcer medicine forced the fog to close in all at once, leaving him in eye-aching, head-throbbing darkness.

Normally, fluid oozes in through the back of the eye, seeps forward and drains out through tiny channels up front. When these tiny channels stop working, pressure builds inside the eyeball—glaucoma.

Often glaucoma comes on gradually. Darkened theaters grow darker and darker in spite of extra carrots and vitamin A. New glasses can't sharpen your fuzzy world.

Your pupils resemble steamy, wintry windows. Rainbows and halos decorate every bright light. Destroys Cells

The high pressure destroys delicate cells inside the eye. Slowly your wide angle vision narrows until the world looks like you're peeping through two tiny tubes.

Glaucoma may attack one or both eyes at the same time. It attacks only Jim's left eye. When the colorful curtain (iris) bunches around those tiny draining channels, stopping up most flow. Now pressure skyrockets. Ulcer-soothing atropine—and its close relatives—widens pupils and may bring on sudden blinding glaucoma.

Relieving Pressure
Medicines and eye surgery can relieve glaucoma's pressure. But not the damage already done. Eye drops can narrow the pupil to help reopen clogged draining channels.

Eye drops work in reverse, too. They can widen the pupil in the normal eye. As extra light

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

There is an increasing trend toward moving coal by pipeline just as gas and petroleum products are now moved for great distances.

At present the only pipeline which moves coal after it is finely ground and mixed with water is one from the coal fields in the Cadiz area to Cleveland.

This has now been in operation for some time and has proved highly successful.

Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., owners of several big pipelines passing through Ohio, including the Big and Little Inchs, explains the method of moving coal from mine to central points where large quantities are used.

Supporting this means of moving coal from mine to market, the Texas Eastern says:

"Groups of mines in a given field would feed the raw coal to a central processing plant for cleaning and processing into pipeline coal.

"Small coal miners could easily tie into the processing plant through hydraulic gathering lines. Other methods such as conveyor belts, trucks or existing railway facilities could also be used.

"Coal at the mine is the lowest cost form of fossil energy in this country. However with present means of transportation the economy of coal based energy is lost as a result of the high cost of moving solids by rail."

The concluding statement is: "We at Texas Eastern and Consolidation Coal are confident of the inevitable success of coal pipelining, because progress cannot be stopped."

This would indicate that the monster transmission corporation may be considering entering the coal transportation field with a series of pipelines for that purpose.

TREE NEEDS A DRINK

Recent dry weather has made its presence felt on a great many trees, and has even caused a few to die for lack of moisture.

The leaves lost their dark green color and took on a faded appearance.

One of the trees which is still in urgent need of at least a barrel of water is the big pine tree on the courthouse lawn, which is showing effects of the dry weather and does not have a healthy appearance.

U.S. Taxes Help Japan, Germany Grow Rapidly

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—One of the reasons that Western Europe and Japan have been growing faster industrially in recent years could be the U. S. tax system.

And critics of the system are saying that sooner or later Americans will have to change their ideas, even to including a federal sales tax, despite all the political and popular opposition.

The argument is that the American ideas of taxation hobble industrial growth—and at a time when different ideas are encouraging growth abroad to the competitive disadvantage of the United States.

This argument has been challenged. But almost all agree that the United States is facing serious competition from the European Common Market, and that it seems sure to get worse before it gets better.

The U. S. Treasury collects the bulk of its receipts from taxes on the incomes and payrolls of its citizens and businesses. The percentage is greater than in any of the Western European nations, Japan or Canada.

And it is from individual and corporate incomes, so the argument goes, that the private funds are raised to finance industrial growth. This is true whether it means opening a corner grocery by an individual or building a steel mill by a big corporation.

But the First National City Bank of New York reports today in its October Economic Letter that in fiscal 1960 the U. S. federal government collected $62 billion in personal and corporate income taxes, $12 billion in payroll taxes to support various Social Security programs, and $1.6 billion in taxes on capital, such as federal inheritance and gift taxes.

This came to 85 per cent of total collections, with the other 15 per cent divided among excise, or sales taxes such as on gasoline, custom duties, and similar consumption levies.

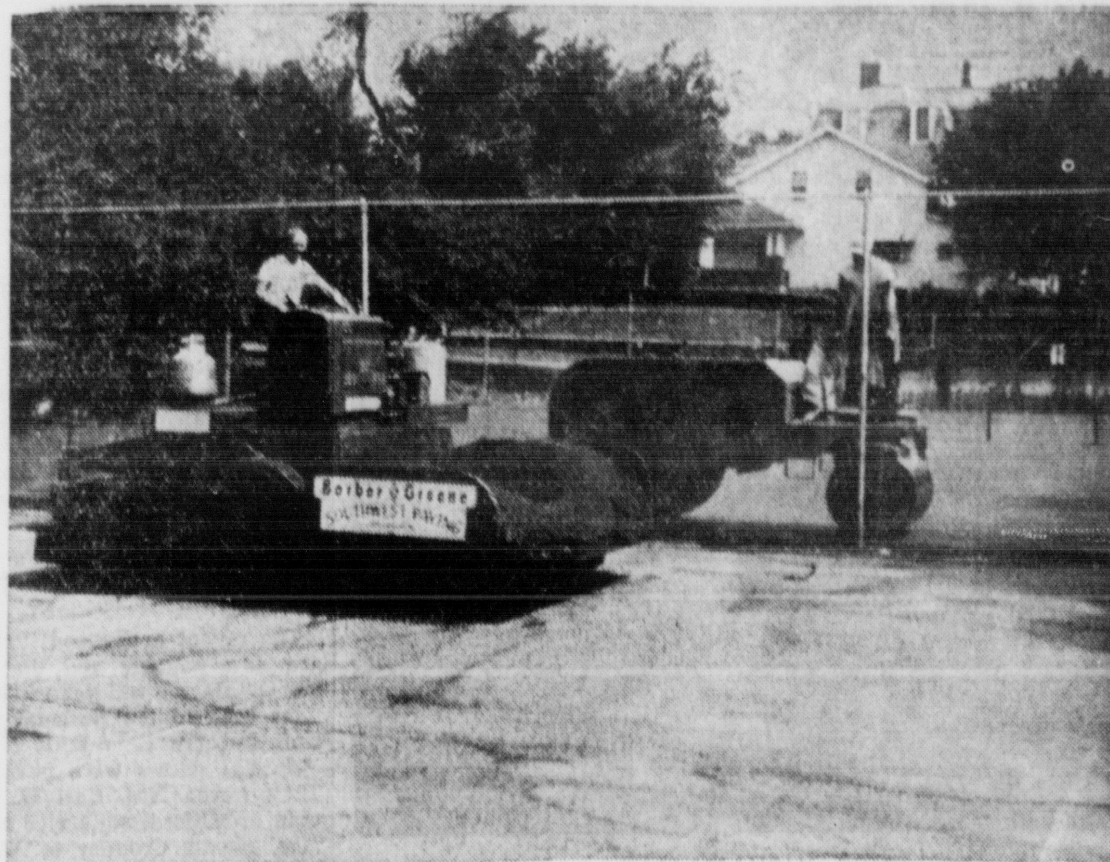

In contrast taxes on income from other countries ranged from a high of 65 per cent of total collections in the Netherlands to 37.5

per cent in Norway. And Uncle Sams collection of 15 per cent from consumption taxes compare with a range from 32 per cent in the Netherlands to 60 per cent in Norway. Other forms of taxes, including capital and property, bring the totals to 100 per cent. The bank economists contend that this drag on the formation of investment capital in the United States is slowing down industrial and other forms of economic progress.

Wilson-James Wedding Rites

MRS. MICHAEL JAMES

The First Methodist Church in Noblesville, Ind., was the setting at 3:30 p.m., Saturday for the wedding of Miss Marsha Lynne Wilson and Mr. Richard Michael James. A large center bouquet of white mums, touched with pink roses, palms and candelabra formed the background for the double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Paul B. Stephenson.

Miss Wilson is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret E. Wilson, 1240 1/2 Clinton St., Noblesville, and the late Mr. Wilson. Mr. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred James, 1219 Washington Ave.

A program of bridal music was presented by Mr. Paul Troyer, organist of Indianapolis, preceding the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. John E. Sapp, was lovely in a ballet length white gown, with bell skirt of peau de soie. The bodice of peau de ange lace featured long sleeves, and a necklace necklace. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a large rose outlined with orange blossoms and pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white mums and pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Billy Kelley, Noblesville, maid of honor, wore a mint green jacquard ballet length gown, with matching head band and veil.

Mr. James Poto, Noblesville, was the best man.

Mrs. Wilson chose a beige lace dress with other brown accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. James was wearing a light blue wool dress. Both mothers wore corsages of pink carnations.

A tiered wedding cake, flanked by crystal candelabra holding pink candles, and wreathed with pink roses, was served with accompaning delicacies at the reception in the scial rooms following the wedding.

For their honeymoon to Dayton, the bride wore a peacock blue wool suit, with matching feather hat and navy accessories and the roses from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. James is a graduate of Noblesville High School in the class of 1960, attended Indiana University and is employed as a technician at the Methodist Hospital.

There are approximately 300 reserved seats in the boxes and sections B and C in the north (new side of the Gardner Park stadium for the do-or-die game between the Lions of WHS and the unbeaten Tigers from Circleville here Friday night, Clyde Cramer, WHS ticket manager, said Tuesday morning.

Because the tickets are going fast and because an overflow crowd is expected, Cramer said these tickets had been placed on sale at the regular price of $2 each at Bray's News and Sports Center, Court and Main Sts.

He suggested that, in view of the interest and prospects of capacity turnouts, WHS fans get reserved seat tickets now for the next three home games — Circleville Friday, Miami Trace Oct. 19 and Greenfield Nov. 9, the last game of the season.

The Lions will play their other three games away from home.

So many requests for reserved seats have been received from the Circleville and Miami Trace fans — and even some from those in Greenfield — that Cramer said arrangements are being made to make them available in the south side of the stadium.

Cramer said he and a crew of volunteers had started to paint reserved seat numbers on the stadium Monday and had hoped to finish up the job by Tuesday night, but rain interfered.

If the weather clears and the seats can be numbered, Cramer said reserved seat tickets will be taken to Circleville Thursday and then made available in ample time for the Miami Trace and Greenfield games later.

MT Reserves Look Good In Opening Win

The Miami Trace Panthers Reserve blanks the Wilmington Hurricane 20-0 in the season's first contest for both teams in Miami Trace stadium.

Meanwhile, Head Coach Dan O'Brien and his assistant, Ralph Tate, spent the after-school hours mostly in a "skull session" with the 21 varsity Panthers, reviewing mistakes and watching movies of their last week's 16-16 tie with the Hurricane varsity.

Twenty-one of the 31 reserve players had opportunities to get into the scramble. Some of these were second and third stringers from the varsity who seldom break into the lineups.

In the first quarter, sophomore fullback Dave Jenkins (190 lbs.) scored on a five-yard plunge, which was set up by a 45-yard run to the 6 by sophomore halfback Fred Hoppes. The conversion was made by senior Bill Creamer. This is Creamer's first season on the gridiron.

Early in the second period frame, outside linebacker junior Gary Writsel swiped an aerial from the Wilmington quarterback and ran it for a 20-yard TD. The extra points try failed.

In the third, both teams fought a tug-of-war on defense; neither scored.

Just inside the fourth, junior quarterback Mike Doyle sneaked through the Hurricane units for a 40-yard TD, only to have it nullified by a clipping penalty. On the next play, Jenkins moved it up to the 10. Two plays later, Creamer scored off tackle. Again the conversion failed.

Reserve Coach Robert LeBeau said he was "well pleased with the running and passing of both quarterbacks — Doyle and sophomore Russ Hatfield." He also lauded Writsel and junior linebacker Jerry Newell for stopping end sweeps.

The Reserves' next game will be Monday at Greenfield. This Saturday morning, the freshman squad, coached by Gordon McCarty, will travel to Wilmington.

MIAMI TRACE LINEUPS
Offense: center, Jon Creamer (202 lb. soph.); right guard, Larry Noble (185 lb. jr.); right tackle, Don Campbell (160 lb. jr.); right end, Jim Newell (140 lb. senior); left guard, Steve Jennings (155 lb. jr.); left tackle, Gary Wilson (207 lb. jr.); left end, Nelson Justice (212 lb. soph.); quarterbacks, Mike Doyle (159 lb. jr.) and Russ Hatfield (140 lb. soph.); left halfback, Fred Hoppes (130 lb. soph.); fullback, Dave Jenkins (190 lb. soph.); right halfback, Bill Creamer (155 lb. senior).

Ernie Green Faces Real Browns' Test

"I want to see if getting Ernie in there will help our pass offense," Brown said Monday night. "He's done well on every assignment given him. You go with experience as long as you can, but the situation seems to call for a change."

In only spot action in preseason games, Green gained 299 yards on nine kickoff returns and 93 yards on five punt returns. The 6-foot-2, 205-pounder also caught five passes for 60 yards and carried nine times for 33 yards.

Meeting Of MT Fans Set For Wednesday
Head MT Coach Dan O'Brien reminded Fayette County fans interested in Miami Trace football that the second in a series of special meetings in the Miami Trace High School cafeteria will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

O'Brien will show movies of the Wilmington game and give the scouting report for the game with Greenfield's winless Tigers. The Panthers meet the Tigers in MT stadium this Friday night.

Dodger Hopes, Alston's Scalp Hang In Balance

Los Angeles Faces Do-Or-Die Choice In Tilt With Giants

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Not only the Dodgers' World Series hopes but Los Angeles manager Walter Alston's scalp may hang in the balance in today's second game of the National League pennant playoff between the Dodgers and the Giants of San Francisco.

There have been backhand mutterings by people close to the Dodgers that Alston's continued association with the club depends upon the team's finish. If the Dodgers win the pennant, Alston stays, is the word. If they lose, he loses, too.

If this is true, Alston may be packing Wednesday. The shocking 8-0 defeat in San Francisco in the playoff opener Monday threw the slump-ridden Dodgers into their worst predicament of the year in what must be regarded as the biggest foldup in modern history.

It is not only that the Dodgers have lost 11 of their last 14, five in a row. It is not only that they've skidded from four games in front to one game behind in nine days. But it is the ease with which enemy pitchers have been able to contain their best hitters.

The Dodgers have not scored in the last 30 innings. They've managed only 10 hits off Ernie Broglio and Curt Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals and Billy Pierce of the Giants in the last three games.

If the Dodgers aren't dead, they're not great ad for the living. They resemble a tired, beaten crew, hardly able to hang on until it's over. They were beaten in the very first inning Monday when Willie Mays stroked the first of his two home runs, a two-run smash off starter and loser Sandy Koufax.

That was all the advantage Pierce needed. He permitted only three hits, two by pinch hitters and did not allow a man past second base as he registered his 16th victory of the season. It was the Giants' seventh victory in the last eight meetings with the Dodgers.

Alston still talks in terms of winning, still insisting that his charges are due to break out of their batting slump.

For the second of the best-of-three series, Alston named Stan Williams, a mediocre right-hander with a 13-12 record to oppose Jack Sanford, the Giants' 24-game winner. Alston said he might switch to Don Drysdale, his 25-game winner.

The Dodger brass scoffs at the idea that Alston's job is on the line. Not so long ago, Buzzie Bavasi, the general manager, said: "Winning or losing will have no bearing on whether Alston stays or not."

"If it was a veteran club," said Alston, "I could see where kicking them in the behind and giving them hell might do some good. But with this club, I don't think you ought to scare the kids any worse than they are."

Alliance Is Voted As Top Ohio Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Victory over Massillon's seven-time state champions appears to be a free ticket to the top spot in the Associated Press Ohio high school football poll.

Fremont Ross whipped the once terrific Tigers 8-7 in the opener and led last week's ratings by the state's sports writers. Friday night Alliance's Aviators blanked their cross-county rivals 46-0, and today Mel Knowlton's once-beaten crew heads the list.

Alliance came back from an opening game 13-8 loss to Lima Senior in a bid to repeat its 1958 state title drive. Fremont was forced to score in the final 30 seconds to defeat Findlay 14-6 last Friday, and the close shave with the one-game winners dumped the Little Giants to second.

Niles McKinley, 1961 state champ and second a week ago, slipped to fourth after nicking Youngstown Cardinal Mooney 16-6. Middletown breezed over Newark 52-14 to cling to third, but the Butler countians almost closed the gap.

Massillon, after the Alliance rout, dropped out of the Top 10, as did Kettering Fairmont, which lost 12-6 to Xenia. Moving in was Marietta (9th) and Steubenville's Big Red (10th).

Keep an eye on those Warren Panthers. They're in fifth place despite an opening 6-6 tie with Mansfield. Last week they trapped Lima Senior 42-0, the same team which trimmed top-spot Alliance.

Jackson lost to Logan 20-0, its first loss in 19 and its first shut-out since 1958. And Springfield North suffered its first loss in history, 28-12 to Hamilton Garfield. The new school had an 18-0-1 record up to Friday night.

Harry Wilson, 180-pound Steubenville halfback, scored five touchdowns in the 68-22 rout of Pittsburgh Scheney — giving him 11 for four games.

Just 30 years ago Alliance coach Mel Knowlton was the Massillon quarterback—and Alliance beat him 30-6 on its way to a clean season. That was Alliance's best effort against the Tigers until the whopping 46-0 win last Friday. The Aviators outgained Massillon 44 yards to 129, and halfback Chet Bryant of the winners ran for three touchdowns and 153 yards—one score coming on a 75-yarder.

Findlay was penalized 90 yards in the first half against Fremont but was tied 6-6 with 30 seconds to go when the Little Giants scored on a fourth-and-four situation from the seven-yard line.

Lorain Admiral King and Toledo Scott were scoreless in the first half, but Lorain went 53, 55.

Six Ribbons Won At Horse Show

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hancock, CCC Highway-E came back from the annual Georgetown Horse Show, always one of the best in these parts, with six ribbons.

Riding his five-gaited gelding, Sunday Stonewall, Dr. Hancock placed second in the amateur five-gaited stake, third in the five-gaited stallion and gelding class and fifth in the grand champion-stake.

Mrs. Hancock, on her five-gaited gelding, Christopher Robin, placed second in five-gaited stake, third in the amateur five-gaited stake and second in the five-gaited combination stake.

Billy Pierce Likes Candlestick Park

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There's no place like home to Billy Pierce, the San Francisco Giants' left-handed refugee from the American League.

He mopped up the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-0 in Monday's National League playoff opener at San Francisco.

Pierce probably won't be used in Dodger Stadium, and from the looks of his road record it's just as well. At Candlestick Park, he is a different pitcher.

"That's a wonderful ball park," he has said all year, and Monday he ran his record there to 12-0. On the road, he is only 4-6.

The USA reports that 87,562,000 rounds of golf were played during 1961.

OSU Is Voted As Top Team

Alabama Slips Notch In National Rating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After taking a back seat for just one week, Ohio State was back in the No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press football poll today.

The power-packed Buckeyes were voted the top team in the nation in the AP pre-season poll, but when Alabama, the defending champion, won its first game convincingly, the sports writers and sportscasters who do the voting had some second thoughts.

They sent the Crimson Tide, the defending national champions, to the top in the first of the regular-season polls.

But after Ohio State's crushing 41-7 victory over North Carolina in its opener last Saturday, the Buckeyes edged back into first place with 335 votes to 329 for Alabama, which crushed Tulane, 44-6.

The Crimson Tide actually compiled more first place votes than Ohio State—19 to 18 — but the Buckeyes had more general support. The votes are awarded on a basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second and so on down the list.

No other team really came close to the two front-runners. Texas held on to its No. 3 spot with 266 points and Penn State continued at No. 4 with 227 points. Louisiana State, rated one of Alabama's main rivals for the Southeastern Conference championship, tumbled out of the top ten along with Michigan State and Missouri.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses:

- | Points | |
|--------|------------------------|
| 335 | 1. Ohio State (18) |
| 329 | 2. Alabama (19) |
| 266 | 3. Texas (3) |

| 178 | 5. Georgia Tech |
| 125 | 6. Southern California |
| 107 | 7. Mississippi |

Willie Mays Older, Wiser And Tired

LOS ANGELES (AP) — His boyish grin is still present. So is his high-pitched laughter, his bubbling enthusiasm and, of course, that ever wondrous play, both at bat and afield.

Otherwise, there is little resemblance to the Willie Mays of 1962, perhaps baseball's greatest modern star, and the wide-eyed youth who played in the last playoff between the Giants and Dodgers back in 1951.

"I'm older and wiser, and tired," observed Willie, as he pondered the many things that have happened to him since he joined the Giants in May 1951 as a frightened fledgling of 20, only two years out of high school.

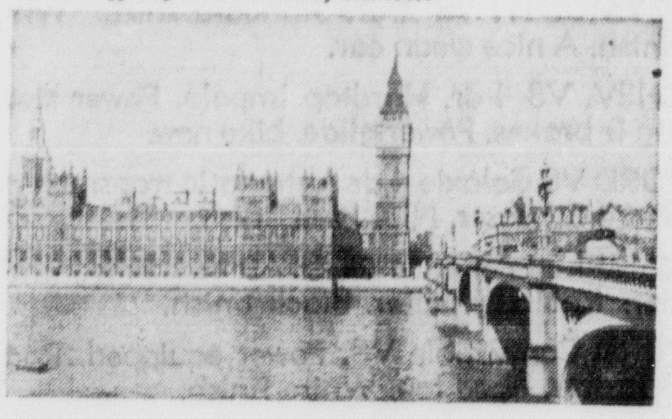

Willie had given one of his greatest performances in an 8-0 triumph over Los Angeles that gave the San Francisco Giants the first game of the best-of-three series for the National League championship. Two home runs boomed off his bat, as well as a single. He scored three runs, drove in three and capped the day with a stolen base.

The Stars Say—

By ESTRELLITA

For Tomorrow

THIS IS one of those days in which to "expect the unexpected". Be ready to make quick decisions if encountering changed situations and conditions; also if you are required to make sudden alterations in plans. Do not make decisions recklessly, however. Speed should not deter you from remaining calm and serene.

For The Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, as of this day, you can begin to put postponed plans, involving business and financial matters into operation. This must be done on a sound basis, however. Don't court risks you can ill afford.

And do not expect immediate results. Progress will probably not be noted until late December of this year, with another upward boost in mid-1963.

Happy Outlook

The latter part of this year will be your year where affairs of the heart are concerned, with practically every month between now and January well-aspected in this regard. Next June will also be generous along sentimental lines.

Be careful in other personal relationships this month and in February, however. Curb emotions and don't force issues in discussions. After Christmas, you will enter an excellent business period, enabling you to start the new year off on the right foot.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a lovable and charming personality and may be musically inclined.

Democrat Rally And Dinner Is Set For Oct. 24

Plans for a Democratic rally and dinner Oct. 24 at the Country Club today are taking form, a spokesman for the coordinating committee told the Democratic Club at its meeting Monday night in the party's new campaign headquarters at 218 E. Court St.

Headlining the rally will be campaign talk by William L. Coleman, chairman of the state Democratic committee. Candidates for state offices have been invited to attend, but it was said it is still too early to know how many will be here.

However, the party's candidates for the three county offices are expected to be there. They are: Virtus J. Kruse, seeking reelection to the Legislature; Robert Mace, candidate for county commissioner; and Reed M. Winegardner, candidate for Common Pleas Court judge. All three were at Monday night's club meeting.

The rally and dinner are being planned by the party's coordinating committee, which is composed of representatives of the county Executive and Central Committees and the Democratic Club.

STEVE LUDDY, Central Committee chairman, outlined plans for a school for precinct workers, which he said is not likely to be held before the Nov. 6 election.

Luddy, emphasizing the importance of the school, declared that "personal contact by precinct workers is what wins elections."

Details for the school here are being worked out by the coordinating committee in cooperation with the Executive Committee, which is sponsoring it.

There was much informal discussion of plans for the campaign, which is just now getting into high gear, but no formal action was taken.

The club members agreed that since the next regularly scheduled meeting would come the day before the election it should be advanced a week and be held on Oct. 29. The club meets regularly the first Monday night of every month.

The Democrats also agreed that the new headquarters should be kept open every afternoon from now until the Nov. 6 election.

Janes Ditch Project OK'd

Fayette County commissioners approved a proposed improvement of the Janes ditch at a final hearing Monday afternoon.

The improvement, sought by William Perrill and others, includes cleaning the open parts of the ditch over approximately 1,800 feet. The ditch is on the line between Paint and Union townships.

The cost of the work is estimated by County Engineer Charles Wagner, at $1,386.15. The commissioners instructed Wagner to advertise for bids and proceed with the improvement.

The cost will be assessed against eight property owners in the watershed.

MTHS Boosters Board To Eye Parking Area

The 15-member board of directors of the Miami Trace Athletic Boosters Club will consider what financial assistance the organization may be able to give to the high school parking lot expansion when it meets next Tuesday night.

Paul Shepard, president of the club, said that the Boosters are naturally interested in the improvement, but he pointed out that a story about the improvement carried in Monday's Record-Herald gave the impression that he and another Booster member attending a school board meeting committed the organization to financial support for the new parking lot. Shepard said he told the school board that the club's directors would give the matter consideration but that the decision will rest with the directors as a group.

Kiwanis Club Told About Red Threat To U.S.

The Rev. Donald Walters, pastor of the South Side Church of Christ, told members of the Kiwanis Club at their dinner meeting Monday night that if the Communists take over the United States, there will be no churches and no religious services, except those held in secret.

The Rev. Mr. Walters described the subversive methods used by Communists and the devious ways in which they are infiltrating the United States, but devoted most of his talk to the religious aspects of what he termed the threat to American freedom.

During the short business session conducted by the new president, Edwin Nestor, plans for the Nov. 16 ladies night meeting were discussed. Marj Heyduck, women's page editor of the Dayton Journal-Herald, will be the principal speaker.

Nestor, reporting on a district Kiwanis meeting in Columbus, said that plans already are being made by Kiwanis clubs in Central Ohio to provide more transportation and accommodations for the youngsters at the annual Kids Day at Lockbourne Air Force Base at Columbus. He said reports at the district meeting showed the interest in the event has grown to such an extent that arrangements for the youthful visitors must be revised upward.

At the meeting with Nestor were Richard Kilian, Toby Clary, Homer Emery and William Potter, the club's Kids Day committee chairman. They estimated more than 500 kids went to Lockbourne from here for this year's event.

Nestor announced that a board meeting will be held at the Washington Lumber Co. office Thursday night.

Burglary Trial Slated Nov. 14

Ronald L. Tyree, 31, of Jeffersonville, under indictment for burglarizing the Rocking Chair Inn, 428 Wilson St., last Nov. 3, will be tried in Common Pleas Court Nov. 14.

The trial date was fixed by Judge John P. Case after one postponement requested by defense counsel. Indicted by the April term grand jury, Tyree has been free under $1,000 bond.

He was one of two men arrested in connection with the burglary which, according to a sheriff's report, netted three cases of whiskey and $135 in cash. The other man was Kenneth Eugene Upthegrove Jr., 27, also of Jeffersonville, who was found guilty by a jury last March and was sentenced to a 1-to-15 year term in the Ohio Reformatory.

Upthegrove, at his own trial, implicated Tyree in the burglary but refused to testify against him at a Municipal Court hearing.

Tyree has pleaded not guilty to the burglary charge.

THREE EXTRA LEGS—This little porker should have no trouble being first in line at the feed trough. He was born with seven legs. The four usual ones are in their proper places. The three extra ones are suspended almost directly behind the front legs and actually serve no useful purpose. They just drag while the pig uses the other four to get about. The 6-week-old Hampshire was in a litter born on the Earl Clevenger farm, Rt. 1, Highland. A veterinarian says the porker is normal in every other respect and in excellent health. He suggested the Clevengers donate him to the College of Veterinary Medicine at Ohio State University. The Clevengers are undecided whether to do so. That's Mrs. Clevenger holding him in the photo.

General Walker

"we would not be a strong nation but a mere unruly mob." At the time Walker commanded troops enforcing desegregation of Little Rock schools.

Sunday night, the tall ex-general who led troops in combat in Europe and Korea led a mob of students in a charge on U. S. marshals trying to enforce desegregation of the University of Mississippi.

Today the 53-year-old Texan is in a U. S. medical center at Springfield, Mo., where federal prisoners are treated and examined for physical or mental ills.

He is charged with conspiracy to incite rebellion or insurrection. For Walker it was one of a dramatic series of battles in the last year and half that has plunged his name in and out of the news.

Walker, whose views are of the extreme right and who is a member of the John Birch Society, has described his actions as part of his fight against international communism.

In 1961, Walker commanded the 24th Infantry Division at Augsburg, Germany—or the front line of the cold war.

Division officers recalled him as a non-nonsense officer who being unmarried devoted practically all his time to the division.

But that spring he was relieved of command, accused of indoctrinating his troops with extreme right political philosophy, of advising them how to vote in the congressional elections and of describing a number of prominent Americans as "definitely pink."

West Pointer Walker drew an official admonishment. He then resigned, saying "I must be free from the power of little men who, in the name of my country, punish loyal service to it."

In a dramatic appearance before a Senate committee investigating allegations that military officers' anti-communist declarations were being censored, Walker charged he had been "framed in a den of inequity."

He accused Secretary of State Dean Rusk, among some other administration officials, as being linked with a mysterious "control apparatus" which he said followed "the soft line on communism."

Walker entered politics in his own state of Texas and sought the Democratic nomination for governor. He finished sixth in the six-man race.

Man Fined, Jailed On Conduct Charge

Herbert Jones, Good Hope, was fined $5 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail after pleading guilty in Municipal Court Tuesday morning to a charge of disorderly conduct and intoxication.

Judge Max G. Dice suspended 25 days of the jail sentence on condition Jones remain out of trouble for one year. He was arrested on an affidavit signed by Doris Jones.

Hearing on a charge of disorderly conduct and intoxication filed against Franklin E. Howe, 55, Rt. 4, was continued until Oct. 12, due to the absence of a witness for the prosecution. Howe has pleaded innocent to the charge.

He was arrested Sept. 25 on an affidavit signed by Patrolman Charles M. Long of the Washington C. H. police department.
